1. At the beginning of January 1951 the German border-police force in the area from Schwarheide (border-crossing point) to Meuhaus (1154/T12) was reduced by 50 percent, and Soviet forces were brought into the area by railway and truck. Restaurants in the following villages were requisitioned as quarters for the Russian troops:

Gothmann, southeast of Boizenburg (154/S93) Heugulze, on the road from Boizenburg to Heuhaus Schwanheide Horst Vier, on the road from Boizenburg to Lauenburg (15h/883)

There are 35 new Russian personnel in Gothmann and 40 in Neugulze. Approximately the same number are believed to be stationed in each of the three other villages listed above.
